

CONNECT AND PROTECT
DON'T START THE WINTER ON THIN ICE!

BECAUSE WINTERS CAN BE HARSH...

In winter, freezing temperatures can be a latent danger for buildings and the people who live and work in them. Think for example of the damage that can be caused by frozen pipes. Or the difficulties that can result from icicles on gutters, black ice on driveways, or snow-covered stairs and footpaths. As the responsible person, it is in your best interests to properly equip your buildings and give everyone maximum protection against frost, ice and snow.

THE SOLUTION: INTELLIGENT HEATING SYSTEMS

nVent RAYCHEM can help you avoid all risks of material, physical and financial damage. We have developed a series of innovative, self-regulating heating and frost-protection systems for this. They are all complete, easy to install and efficient solutions to the risk of damage caused by frost, snow and the formation of ice. The low energy consumption is an added bonus. Discover here how RAYCHEM offers you the best possible protection, against the lowest temperatures.
